MINERVA PRODUCTION NOW HAS ANNUAL VALUE OF $280,320

4520 POLL TAXES PAID IN COUNTY UP TO TUESDAY

7791 WERE PAID IN THE COUNTY FOR 7922—MORE DURING 1923.

Up to Tuesday night 4520 poll tax payments had been made in the county, according to the figures compiled in the office of tax collector Lill Alex Bonds.

It is estimated that approximately 8000 or more will be paid this year as compared with 7791 paid in the county for 1922.

Owing to business conditions obtaining in 1921 and 1922 the delinquent roll of the county taxes was larger than for any previous year in recent years. Conditions have been improved materially since that time but it is likely that there will be a large delinquent roll this year.

Only five more days remain in which to make payment of the 1922 taxes and tax payers are urged to pay as early as possible in order to avoid the last day of rush for the window.

Tax Collector Dan Tyson of the city of Cameron reports that collections are about $7000 behind as compared for the same period last year. He reports collections of $22,000 as against about $56,000 collectable on the rolls. He reports 350 polls paid. This figure is about 100 behind the figures of poll tax payments of last year for the same period.

The limit of time on payment of city taxes ends January 31 as in the county and with but five days remaining for the payment of taxes it looks as though there will be a grand rush on the last day or the delinquent roll will be very large.

CAMERON GETS NEW HARDWARE BUSINESS

FIRM TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS HERE BEGINNING THIS WEEK.

Cameron will have in operation this week another Hardware business. This business is to be operated by Joe Petruy and Steve Salach and will be in operation this week according to the announcement.

The firm will be known as the Petruy and Salach Hardware Co. and will occupy the building formerly occupied by the firm of Balhorn & Co. wholesale grocers.

The firm is making an announcement elsewhere in this issue of The Cameron Herald.

DEFICIT SHOWN IN FUNDS OF RED CROSS FOR 1923

ONLY $1076 RAISED WITH 637 MEMBERS ENROLLED FOR THE YEAR.

A shortage in the red cross funds of the county is shown by the report just filed by R. P. Jeter, director of the Roll Call. The total amount of money raised is given at $1076 with a total of 637 members enrolled.

Mr. Jeter has made his report to W. G. Gillis, chairman for the county. The expense of the red cross is to maintain a county nurse and Miss Stella Carter has been serving in this capacity for the past two years.

It is not known what means will be employed to finance the red cross but it is believed, in view of the importance of the work of the nurse, that means will be found to make up whatever deficiency shown by the report.

FORMER MAYOR HERE BACK FROM TRIP TO THE PACIFIC COAST

U. S. HEARRELL CALLED TO LOS ANGELES ON LEGAL BUSINESS —PRAISES WEST

Former Mayor U. S. Harrell of Cameron and for many years a leading attorney in the county, has returned from a several weeks trip to the Pacific Coast, visiting Los Angeles and San Francisco and other cities on business.

Mr. Harrell left Cameron about the first of the New Year for the West where he went in the interest of clients, arranging for the details of the trial which is to be held in the near future.

In all Mr. Hearrell traveled in eight states and made an extensive study of the West, especially the State of California. He tells many interesting facts about the progress of the west and the thrift and industry of its citizens.

Mr. Hearell saw Hollywood, now becoming one of the show grounds of America. He saw San Francisco, the gateway of the East and in all sections of the state studied the methods of the people, how science has harnessed the natural resources of the country and retrieved desert lands and made them into blooming gardens and fruit yielding belts.

While in California Mr. Hearrell made his headquarters in Los Angeles and out of that dynamo of industry got a first hand view of the industrial power of the state.

"California is a wonderful country" said Mr. Hearrell. "To illustrate the big industrial vision of the people of that state, I was told that in developing the arteries of commerce the railroads have become to slow in their functions and now great corporations are being formed to buy government ships and to make an outlet to the sea and to utilize the Panama Canal. The people there in Los Angeles are so industrially disposed and are so secure in their superior methods of commerce they think the canal was dug especially for them" he said.

In Utah he went to the city of the Mormans—Salt Lake. He describes the industrial vision of the Mormans as inspiring, praising their civic ideas. To illustrate the financial condition of the country, he said in a number of towns in California only a little larger than Cameron that banks have as much as $45,000,000 on deposit.

One of the powers of the state is the newspapers of William Randolph Hearst, he said.

1350 FEET OF FIRE HOSE PURCHASED BY CITY FOR DEPARTMENT

Chief Thomas of the fire department has given an order to the Eureka Fire Hose Department of the United States Rubber Company for 1350 feet of hose for the fire department in Cameron.

This purchase was necessary in order to have surplus hose on hand, a requirement by the state fire insurance commission. A representative of the department was in Cameron last Friday and on making inspection advised that the hose would have to be purchased if the present credit rating is maintained.

This purchase at a cost of $1350 will give the city ample hose for many years.

CHEVROLET SHIPMENT BREAKS ALL RECORDS REPORT HERE SHOWS.

Shipment of Chevrolet cars on Friday January 19 exceeded the record for all time according to information contained in a telegram sent to G. C. White of the White-House Motor Co., local Chevrolet dealers.

On this date, the telegram says 2158 cars were shipped from the various assembling plants which is the largest single day shipment in the history of the country. This does not include Canada.

Giles L. Avriett's Views On Paving and the Sale Of The Paving Bonds

Had it been possible to have paved the streets of Cameron for $1000.00 per block, as first indicated, I would have supported the proposition, but costihg approximately $2500.00 per block including intersections, for this reason and others enumerated below I shall vote against it.

CERTIFICATES OF COUNTY AND CITY COLLECTORS.

I, W. A. Bonds, Tax Collector of Milam county, Texas, do hereby certify that the State, County and Road Bond District No. 2 tax for the year 1922, amounted to a levy of $1.77 on the Hundred Dollar valuation of property.

Witness my hand this the 20th day of January, 1923.

W. A. BONDS,
Tax Collector, Milam County, Texas

I, Dan Tyson, Tax Collector of the City of Cameron, do hereby certify that the tax rate for school and general purposes for the year 1922 amounted to $1.40 on the Hundred Dollar valuation of property. There was voted during the year a band and park tax of 10 cents and 5 cents seferage tax to be levied for the year 1923. This 15 cents was not included in the $1.40 rate for 1922. Should the paving tax carry, the city tax rate for the year 1923 will be $1.40 plus the 15 cents for band and park and sewerage, and paving tax of 17 1-2 cents, making a total of $1.72 1-2.

Witness my hand this the 20th day of January, 1923.

DAN TYSON,
Tax Collector, City of Cameron, Texas.

TAX RATE.

It will be seen from the cretificate of W. A. Bonds, Tax Collector Milam County, Texas, that the tax rate, State, County and Road Bond District for the year 1922 amounted to $1.77 on the $100.00 valuation. There is no prospect of same being lowered for the year 1923.

From the certificate of Dan Tyson, tax collector City of Cameron, it is hhown the tax rate for the year 1922 amounted to $1.40 on the $100.00 valuation. Add to this, park and band tox of 10 cents, 5 cents sewerage tax and 17½ cents paving tax in the event same carries, and this will make the total rate for the year 1923, $1.72½.

In other words, the state, county, road bond district and city tax for all purposes, should the paving tax carry, will be $3.49½ or virtually $3.50 on the $100 valuation. To this total of $3.50 can safely be added before the expiration of the present year, an additional tax of 25 cents for an addition to the old school building or a new building to relieve the already congested condition of the grammar school.

TAX RATE AND RENTS ON PROPERTY.

Suppose for illustration, a man has a residence of the value of $4,000 for rent property. At the present time, a residence and lot on which same is located, of the value of $4,000, will rent for $30.00 per month or a total of $360 per year. He will pay $3.50 per $100 tax on same or a total tax on a rendition of $4,000 of $144. It will cost $30 for insurance per year, or an ex-

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

At a meeting this morning of the Commercial Club Committee to push the paving election an agreement was reached with the Cameron Water, Power & Light Company regarding the construction of standard Water mains which it is believed will lead to a final satisfactory settlement.

It is said that the company has agreed tentatively to the plans submitted by the State Fire Insurance Commission. This plan will reduce the key rate from the second to the first class key and reabates will be forthcoming on insurance premiums paid if the matter is settled and the mains installed before June 1 or prior to the time of the publishing of the new rates.

BRICK BATS FOR MR. DARWIN

Editor, Cameron Herald,
Cameron, Texas.

A clarion call has been sent out to the people of Texas pleading, as the Macedonions plead with Paul, to assist in eradicating from the public schools and colleges of Texas supported by taxation, Darwinian evolution which results in agnosticism and atheism, among students of the state.

Religion is not allowed to be taught in the schools of Texas; neither should any "irreligion" (as the Hon. William Jennings Bryan stated in a letter to proponents of anti-evolutionary legislation in Texas) be taught which is opposed to religion.

If the citizens of Texas would support a bill forbidding the teaching that man sprang from monkey then each should write to his representatives and senator demanding his vigorous support to such measures.

The Hon. William Jennings Bryan will be with us in the fight.

Very repectively,
J. T. Stroder and others.

CONDITIONS IN THE CAMERON SCHOOLS.

In the last week's issue of your paper, there appeared an article by Mr. Batte, in which he suggests that steps be taken at once, by the School Board, to provide suitable buildings for our schools.

We wish to inform Mr. Batte that it is the intention of the entire Board to put on a campaign, as soon as practical, for a bond issue, sufficiently large to rebuild, or remodel the Junior High School, the Mexican School, and the Negro School. While no official action has been taken by the Board, there has been for more than a year, a general understanding that, when financial conditions improved, the Board would ask for this bond issue.

An examination into the conditions of any of our school buildings will convince any one that it is urgent that something be done. Some of the rooms are so dark that the children have to study under electric lights all day long; while others have too much direct light. The result is that 75 per cent of our children have defective vision, according to reports from the health survey recently made in the schools. The plumbing is a serious problem, and the heating as bad.

We are replying to Mr. Batte through the press, because we feel that it is our duty, as trustees of the schools, to give this information to the voters, in as much as this must be taken into consideration when they vote in the coming street bond election.

WESTERN UNION IS LIVE AID TO FANS OF RADIO PROGRAM

USE OF WIRE BRINGS ARTISTS AND CAMERON AUDIENCE IN DIRECT CONTACT

One of the reasons why the interest in wireless broadcasting has not only been holding its own, but is constantly spreading, is to be found in the improved quality of the material which is being sent out by the Broadcasting Stations.

In the early stages of the Broadcastin Experiments, the then Comparatively few owners of receiving sets were more concerned with the technical problems of hook-up and adjustment than with the character or quality of the matter which they were receiving. As the radio audience grew, and particulorly since its tremendous development beginning somewhere over a year ago, there came into the field a large number of persons whose interest in the technical side of the operation of their receiving sets was not as keen as that of the pioneers.

Ready-made sets, which anybody can operate, as they are with little knowledge of the details of their construction, have come into the market; the amatuer who hooks up his own set once he has finally found his pet layout giving himself little further trouble about its technical arrangement. Both he and his ready-made set operator are content to use their outfits "as is" and concentrate on what they can get. And so for them the Radio receiving set has become less a piece of apparatus to be tinkered with in making constant experimental changes and adjustments, but more an instrument ready to be "turned on" at any time when the user feels in need of entertainment, somewhat like a phonograph or a player piano, but with a vastly larger range of selections to choose from by turning into this, that or the other station.

The interest has thus come to center more in the program and less in the technique of the receiving set.

One of the difficulties has always been that the person listening in was not in responsive touch with the broadcasting station. No doubt every radio fan has fetl his lack of reciprocal contact. The broadcasting stations on the other hand, were in the corresponding predicament that there was no spontaneous reaction from their audiences. They tried to meet this situation by suggesting to their hearers that they let them know by post card or by letter how they had received the matter sent out, and thousands of such post cards and let-

HARPER'S PUPILS WELL RECEIVED

The expression and Voice pupils of Russel C. Harper were presented in recital Friday night in the auditorium of the Yoe High School, and were greeted by a very appreciative audience.

The program was opened by Miss Jennie Tyson singing "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," and followed with "My Laddie." Miss Tyson's pleasing soprano voice showed marked improvement considering her short study being free from any metallic touch. Her readings were also well rendered. The characters in "Mr. Brown" being especially well delineated.

Each pupil did his part well and the program as a whole was well balanced and thoroughly enjoyed.

The piano and violin numbers by Mrs. Jeters' pupils were also much enjoyed.

The following pupils participated in the recital, Bonnel Neinast, Gladys Margaret Key, Alfred Brady, George Newton, Hortense Klawansky, Miss Don Clinton, Miss Jenny Tyson and Harleigh McGregor.

Mesdames Elise Horstman, Henry Horstman, Charles Bauch and Miss Elise Nordhauser, of Buckholts, visited relatives in Cameron the past week.

TOTAL PRODUCTION FOR DAY NOW 480 BARRELS RUN

INCREASE OF 85 BARRELS SHOWN FOR FIRST HALF OF JANUARY PIPE LINE RUN

The pipe line run from the Minerva field is now 480 barrels a day according to the records of the Owens Refining Company.

Since December the production has increased 85 barrels per day, the largest production increase yet noted for the time given.

The oil is now selling at $1.60 per barrel 38 gravity and this means that the operators are being paid at the rate of $768 per day; $23,040 per month of 30 days and $280,320 per year.

Since the last report the value of this protection has increased from $219,000 annually to the grand total of $280,320 per year. The former figure being for the value of the crude in 1922. If the field continues this increase the aggregate, it is estimated will be close to a million dollars at the close of the year.

The farmers or land owners of the field are receiving one eighth of this amount which is $35,040 per year the remainder of the money going to the

DR. TOM DENSON IS CO. HEALTH OFFICER

NAMED TO SUCCEED HIMSELF BY COMMISSIONERS COURT HERE

Dr. Tom Denson, Cameron physician and drug dealer, has been named as county health officer by the Commissioners Court to succeed himself.

Only one other applicant was made and that by Dr. Everett.

Mr. Denson has been county health officer for a number of years and during that time has been active in improving the public health and looking after the health interest of th ecounty.

At the time of reappointing Dr. Denson the court reappointed J. L. Adams as manager of the county farm located near the city limits of Cameron. Mr. Adams has been manager of the farm for several years.

$24,000 CONTRACT FOR ROAD IS LET BY COUNTY COURT

HANOVER—MILANO LAP IS LET TO COOK & ARRINGTON CONTRACTORS

The commissioners court through its county auditor Giles L. Avirett has awarded the contract for the construction of the Hanover—Milano road to Cook and Arrington, contractors.

The contract amounts to $24,264.80 and is part of the completing highway program in the Milano road district. The construction of these highways are in addition to the lateral roads which are to be constructed in the district and which are to serve the farmers and business men of that section, connecting up as laterals with the system of highways.

At the same time this contract was awarded the court let the contract to build the road from the John Hobson place to the Cameron—Hanover road.

With the completion of the building program in Milano district practically all the road construction will have been completed giving the county one of the best system of gravel pike roads in the entire state.

penditure of $174, or leaving a net earning of $186, lacking just a small bit of being one-half of the gross income. In other words, the taxes, should the paving carry, and insurance on property in the city of Cameron, equals just about 4 per cent. This is on the basis that the county rendition, of course, is the same as the city rendition. At the present, the rendition of the porperty in the city has greatly exceeded th rendition made to the county tax assessor, but strong recommendation will be made to the Commissioner's Court at their next meeting as a Board of Equalization, to require property owners in the city to render their property at the same value to the county tax assessor as is rendered to the city assessor.

BOND ISSUES.

The citizens of Cameron and surrounding country have been most liberal in their views toward Bond Issues in the past. I do not recall of a single Bond Issue in the past few years receiving an adverse vote. Especially during the past six years I have come in close contact with the people relative to bond issues for good roads. They always view the proposition favorably when any real merit is shown.

The state and federal governments have, during the last year, allotted $65,000 aid on the road from Ad Hall through Cameron to McCown's bridge. Of course, the road district would have to match this $65,000 with a bond issue, but considering the enormous delinquent tax list both for the county and city of Cameron after February 1, 1922, I had thought the time inopportune to espouse a bond issue for this purpose. The county delinquent tax list was so large of February 1, 1922 that it required an expenditure of $319 to publish same in one local paper.

Some of our people are now putting forth every effort to just tide things over, due to the September flood of 1921 rendering that year's crop almost a total loss and the re-adjustment of conditions since the war. A good many of these people usually come forward with their part on anything for the public good. Others probably fail to do so, but our people who own the major portion of the property in Cameron deserve some consideration. They have established their faith in the city by acquiring this property. They have paid taxes on same in good years and bad years and have in many instances contributed to the up-building of our city.

I do not believe in issuing bonds promiscuously. All over the country at the present time there seems to be a mania to vote bonds. It is a disease. But to retire these paving bonds and pay the interest "some honest-to-goodness tax-payers" right here in Cameron will have to meet the bills. The receipts from "shot-gun tax payments" will evaporate.

SALE OF PAVING BONDS.

On January 16, 1923, the city council unanimoffsly voted to sell to the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis the $100,000 paving bonds in the event the election carries. The sale of these bonds at par and accrued interest with the premium of $500 and other expenses incident thereto paid, would appear on the surface as being a profitable disposal of the same by the city. However, the schedule of these maturities shown below will disclose a tax rate for the 30 years of 17½ cents each year. At the end of 30 years, the city will have paid the principal of $100,000 plus interest of $105,655, or a total expenditure of $205,655.

In other words, the petition for the bond election shows the total issue to be $100,000, a rate of 5½ per cent interest and due in 30 years. Under the suggested schedule, it shows $3300 maturing each year for 29 years and $4300 the 30th year.

UNDER THE SUGGESTED SCHEDULE, THE TAX RATE FOR THE VARIOUS YEARS WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

The tax for the first 5 years would be 25c.
The tax for the next 4 years would be 15c.
The tax for the next 1 year would be 16c.
The tax for the next 6 years would be 17c.
The tax for the next 8 years would be 13c.
The tax for the next 5 years would be 10c.
The tax for the last year would be 9c

Under the above schedule as suggested by me, the principal of the bonds would have to be paid which is $100,000, interest for the 30 years $86,047.50. or a net saving to the tax payers in the city of Cameron of $19,607.50. These bonds were attractive to the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis, Mo. They wanted the interest.

It might be contended under the schedule prepared by me that a sale is not possible, or probably the bonds could not be sold to as good advantage as the sale by the City of Cameron to the National Bank of Commerce. Anticipating this contention I have taken the matter up with a reputable bond company of this state and I have a letter from said company stating they will buy said bonds under the schedule suggested by me and give as follows:

Par and accrued interest to date of delivery, pay for opinion of bond attorney, printing of bonds, other expenses incident to the issuance of the bonds and a premium of $1000.

This bid is the same of the National Bank of Commerce, except as to the saving to the tax payers of the City of Cameron and the bid under my schedule shows a premium of $1000 instead of $500, under the sale made.

Based on the letter I have I have from this bond company I am willing to deposit a certified check for $5000 with the Mayor of this City, that this company will carry out their contract in buying the paving bonds at the price stated above.

I am doubtful of the legality of the sale of these bonds to the National Bank of Commerce, as Article No. 619, Civil Statutes 1916 provides certain conditions precedent to the issuance of bonds and sale of bonds, and I merely submit a proposition of sale in this article to offset any argument that might be urged against the schedule submitted by me, as I am not interested in making a sale to any bond company of any bonds.

Under the prevailing conditions at this time I think this bond issue should be defeated.

Very respectfully,
GILES L. AVRIETT.

SANTA FE WILL RUN AN EXHIBIT TRAIN IN MARCH

TRAIN WILL REACH CAMERON ON TUESDAY MARCH 13, 8:30 A. M.

Dairying, hog growing and poultry raising will be urged as important farm side lines in Soutwest Texas when the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe R'y Company runs its Cow, Sow and Hen Demonstration train in cooperation with the Texas State Agricultural College.

The train will start at Brenham, Monday morning, March 12th, and run to Sweetwater, 44 stops in 10 days. The meetings will last from an hour and a half to two hours. At Sweetwater the train will be turned over to the Panhandle and Santa Fe R'y for a 10 days trip in Northwest Texas.

The Cow, Sow and Hen train will be financed by the Santa Fe Railway. The Agricultural College will provide the speakers and the exhibits of livestock necessary to make the demonstration. The Santa Fe is co-operating with the College because the vitally important message which this great educational institution has for the farmers of the state, can be delivered promptly in no other way.

A survey of the state's industrial condition shows that during the last year or two, farmers who kept a few milk cows, some brood sows and a bunch of chickens, did not feel the hard times so keenly as did those who confined their operations mainly to crop growing. Farmers are urged to come to the train prepared to ask questions.

The speakers from the Agricultural College will be leaders in their respective departments—Prof. Evans, dairying; Prof. Ward, hog raising; Prof. Edson, poultry raising.

J. D. Tinsley, agricultural agents of the Santa Fe, will be in charge of the enterprise, and J. F. Jarrell, editor of "The Earth," the Company's agricultural and industrial paper, and J. G. Fitzhugh, manager of "The Earth" for Southwest Texas, will accompany the train. F. G. Pettibone, vice-president and general manager; J. S. Hershey, general freight agent, and other railroad officials expect to be with the train a part of the time.

The train will be on time and meetings will start promptly on arrival. In addition to the regular program of lectures on dairying, hog raising and poultry raising, there will be a meeting for boys and girls.

A special invitation is extended to the farm women to attend the demonstrations, as the speakers will have something particularly important to say to them.

Clovis, New Mexico and Shattuck, Oklahoma, are shown on the schedule. As it is necessary to include these towns in the schedule for operating purposes, and as farmers there requested meetings, the agricultural college authorities kindly consented to give the program. New Mexico conditions near Clovis and Oklahoma conditions near Shattuck are similar to the conditions in Texas localities to be visited by the train.

The Southwest Texas schedule follows:

KLAN LECTURE IS HEARD IN THORNDALE

Rev. A. A .Davis gave his celebrated lecture on the "Inside view of the Ku Klux Klan" here last Friday night, addressing a large crowd composed of people from Thorndale, San Gabriel and the country round about. Rev. Davis is a good speaker and presented the question in such manner that no cause could be found for a charge of fanaticism of dogmatism, conceding the right to any man who held an opposite view to his own to posess his soul in peace without molestation beyond the power of words to persuade him to look at the subject from his (Davis) view point. Rev. Davis, it seems to the Champion, works on the theory that when people calmly talk over the difference of opinion based upon the information at hand, there are few differences that cannot be satisfactory adjusted to the understanding and peace of mind of all. It's the suspicious and hate that block progress. When men learn the natures of their fellows there is always a great degree of harmony to work a wonderful reform in unfair thinking and living, and the present demands the best efforts of us all along this line.—Thorndale Champion.

The YOEMAN'S PAGE

BELTON DEFEATS YOE HI

The Yoemen met their second defeat last Wednesday night at the hands of the Belton Tigers. Handicapped by the indoor court, the Yoemen did not put up the game they did last Friday night.

Thomas and Eli shared the scoring honors for Yoe Hi, while Smith and Mathews carried the brunt for the Belton offense.

YOE HI IS DEFEATED BY CALVERT

Yoe Hi lost a slow and uninteresting game last Friday night to the high powered Calvert quintet by a score of 16 to 4.

The lineup:

Yoe Hi		Calvert
Thomas	Right Forward	Conner
Taylor	Center	Crace
Graham	Right Guard	Hart

Substitutions.

Yoe High: Green for Taylor, Butts for Eli, McCall for Baggett, Reichert for Graham, Taylor for Green, Sykes Childress for Butts, for Childress, McCall for Willis, Thomas for Sykes Baggett for Graham, Willis for McCall.

Calvert: Self for Grace, Peeler for Connor, Connor for Peeler, Peeler for Allen.

On account of illness of three of the Yoe Hi regulars, the Yoemen were not very peppy and never did find their stride. At the end of the first half, Calvert was leading by a 14 to 1 score. However, the Yoemen tightened up in the last half and Calvert only scored only two points. In this half, Thomas scored 3 points for the Yoemen.

YOE HI SCORES VICTORY

After losing the game Friday night the high powered Yoemen Five staged a comeback and defeated the Calvert Basket-Tossers by a score of 11 to 10. Although Butts was out of the line-up and Reichart and Thomas had not gotten over their illness, the Yoemen covered themselves with glory and partly washed the stain of the defeat of the night before off their record.

The Yoemen were slow to get started off, but when they did get their stride they set things afire. Calvert was leading 6 to 2 at the end of the first half, but the Yoemen settled down to business in the second half and the score was 8 to 7 with Calvert leading. Then McCall looped a beautiful field goal and the Yoemen supporters went wild. However, Bradley substituting for Grace, looped one for Calvert and the score stood Calvert 10, Yoe Hi 9, with two minutes to play. Then Baggett got loose and fairly outran the two Calvert guards ribbling up the entire court and looping the final goal that spelled victory for Yoe Hi.

GOODHUE SMITH ESTATE VALUED AT $50,000.00.

In the county court the will of Goodhue Smith, prominent Waco automobile man, who died here November 29 last, has been filed for probate. Oxsheer Smith, brother of the deceased, has been appointed temporary administrator.

The value of the estate, according to the application to probate the will, is approximately $50,000.00.—Waco Times-Herald.

Goodhue Smith was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith, Sr., of Cameron, and was born and reared to manhood in this city. He left here several years ago to engage in business in Waco and was very successful. His untimely death is mourned here by hundreds of friends and acquaintances. Oxsheer M. Smith brother of deceased who has been named temporary administrator, is president of the Citizens National Bank in Cameron.

Mesdames A. J. Critchfield and Terry Moore, of Gause, visited in the city the past week.

OUR FARMERS HAVE A MONEY MAKING CHANCE

"The year 1923 presents a wonderful chance for money-making to level headed common sense farmers all over the South," said H. G. Hastings, prominent agricultural leader, recently.

"By this we do not mean an expanded cotton acreage over that of 1922, but just the contrary. There were enough acres planted in cotton last year to furnish, under normal season of growth, all the American cotton that the world can afford to pay a price for that will reward the cotton grower adequately for his work.

"Every effort will be made by cotton speculators and the European cotton mills to encourage larger acreage. The present price of cotton distinctly encourages our folks to go 'cotton crazy' again just as they always have in high price periods in past years. Every time there has been increased cotton acreage in high price periods there has followed a mountain of debt and farmer bankruptcies the following fall and winter.

"Increased acreage in cotton in 1923 should be fought like fire. Stick to your acreage which has been found safe under weevil conditions. Cultivate and fertilize to increase yield per acre as much as you please, but don't increase acreage. If you do you simply play into the hands of the speculators again.

"Plant every available acre outside the limited cotton acreage in food, grain and forage crops. No farmer can afford to buy food and grain from merchants when that food and grain can be produced on home acres at certainly not more than half the store price.

"Further, every dollar's worth produced on home acres in the way of needed food and grain for home consumption means a dollar less spent or gone into debt for. If we all lived at home and hoarded at the same place most of our cotton money would stick in our pockets or to our account in the bank instead of all going to pay debts. The money that sticks is the money that counts."

GINNING SEASON CLOSES

Thorndale, Jan. 22.—Thorndale ginning season was ended Saturday with receipts of about 30 bales. A top crop of about 1500 bales was made according to ginners' records. With Saturdays Thorndale will almost reach the 9000 mark, the exact receipts being 8850 bales for the season. Seed is bringing $45 a ton, while cotton is selling for 27 and three fourths cents, middling basis.

WHAT IS THE BASIS OF OPPOSITION TO FEDERAL AID FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Reporting to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States on the subject of the Federal participation in education, Thomas E. Finegan and Mrs. Ira Crouch Wood said of the opposition to the principles of the Tower-Sterling bill, now before Congress creating a Department of Education, with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet:

"Those who have opposed the creation of a Department of Education and further participation of the Federal Government in the promotion of public education base their objections primarily on the assumption that such participation means Federal control of education within the States. They will not concede that the National Government can cooperate with the States in promoting an interest of the highest importance to both State and Nation. They refuse to recognize that such cooperation has been carried on, and is now being carried on successfully. They declare that those who favor the establishment of a Department of Education and the extension of the principle of Federal aid to the States for the promotion of education would transfer the reponsibility for the support and control of public education for the State and local communities within the State to the Federal Government, and place the school system of all the States under a vicious bureaucratic control.

"We affirm that these assumptions are absolutely without foundation. They can be maintained only by imputing motives that do not exist to those who favor extension of Federal participation in the promotion of education, and by refusing to give proper consideration to past experiences and to constittutional and statutory provisions prohibiting Federal control and making it impossible."

The American people may well ask just who they are who "impute motives that do not exist to those who favor extension of Federal participation on the promotion of education."

What is the basis of organized opposition to Federal aid for the public school? What power is menaced by a spread of Education; What variety of schools will be made smaller and of less effect as the public school becomes greater and of larger effect?

The ringing words which give the lie to unjust and untruthful opposition to a bill which is not and can not be successfully opposed upon logical grounds, deserve as they will receive the careful attention and the immediate gratitude of all who have the best interests of American education at heart.

SENATOR NELSON (REP.) DEPLORES FAILURE TO ENTER LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Senator Nelson of Minnesota, one of the three oldest members of the Senate, chairman of the important Judiciary Committee, and represntative of a strong Republic state, speaking of what he regarded as a change of view on the part of certain political leaders, made the following comment in the Senate:

"I have been surprised at the attitude assumed by certain statesmen lately. Two years ago it was considered a dangerous matter to have anything to do with Europe. The phrase "entangling alliances" was heard on all sides, and it was thought to be almost a dangerous thing to have anything to do with the affairs of Europe in any shape or manner. Lately we have sound men on this floor most strencus in the advocacy of our going into Europe. The Senator from Idaho (Mr. Borah) and the Senator from Arkansas (Mr. Robinson) want us to participate in reconstructing Europe.

"I may be a heretic, but I have always believed that it was the greatest mistake economically and in every other way for America not to enter the League of Nations, with one or two amendments of the covenant. If we had become a part of the League of Nations, we would have stabilized conditions over there. Political conditions must be stabilized before economic conditions can be stabilized, and I am satisfied in my own mind, though I may be called a heritic, that if we had entered in the League of Nations and accepted the Treaty of Versailles instead of trying to sneak under it by piecemeal, as some of us have been doing lately, conditions would have been far better in Europe than they are today.

"There were some features of the League of Nations of which I did not approve; but we could have elminated them. In its main features, however, it would have acted upon the conditions of Europe just as our little army today on the Rhine acts upon the foreign soldiers. It would have stabilized conditions there, and the economic difficulty under which Europe is suffering today would have been far less than it is now.

"All the people of Europe look to America. As a result of the war a large share of the money of the world came to this country: We were the strong, rich country, and we attainod such a position in the war that, had we been a member of the League of Nations, if Uncle Sam had shaken his head to the powers of Europe, our advice would have been taken, and we would have controlled the whole situation.

"This may be a sort of funeral oration on the days of the past, and yet I felt then, and I feel now, that we made the greatest mistake in the wdrld when we did not adopt the Treaty of Versailles, with some amendments, particularly as to Article 10. If we had done that, conditions in the world today would have been much beter than they are now."

WILSON IS VINDICATED.

Time and events are clearly demonstrating that the fundementals of the foreign policies of the late Democratic administration were sound. President Wilson prophetically foresaw the evil consequences of a failure of a just and prompt determination of of German reparations and in his first communication to Senator Lodge, Chairman of the Senate Foreign relations Committee, on July 18, 1919, solicited the approval of a provisional representative of the United States on the Reparation Commission. The letter follows:

"My dear Senator: There are some things in connection with the execution of the treaty of peace of the several governments which can hardly await the action of the several governments which must act with regard to the ratification of the treaty, and chief of these is the functioning of so much importance to the business interests of the United States, as well as to the nations with which we are associated, that the United States should be represented on that commission and represented now while the work of the Commission is taking shape, that I am taking the liberty of writing to ask if you will not be kind enough to consult the Cammittee on Foreign Relations with regard to the particular appointement, and say to them that I would very much appreciate their approval of my appointment provisionally of a representative of the United States to act upon the Reparation Commission.

"Very Sincerely Yours,"
"WOODROW WILSON."

The best time to have deals with the question of German reparations was when this letter was written. Not only was the request not granted but eight months later, in order to forestall the appointment of an American representative on the Reparations comission, Sen. Lodge introduced a reservation providing that "no person is or shall be authorized to represent the United States, nor shall any citizen of the United States be eligible as the member of any body or agency established or authorized by said treaty with Germany, except pursuant to an act of Congress of the United States providing for his appointment and defining his powers and duties."

As late as two years ago leaders of the Republican party, as well as every one else, saw that the world was at the cross-roads and that Europe was threatened with financial and economic chaos.

Already wedded to a policy of isolation the party now in power did nothing to avert the threatened disaster. It was not even imbued with an "enlightened selfishness" to protect the interests of the United States which would inevitably suffer as a result of Europe's complete breakdown.

Now that the supreme crisis has been reached what is that party doing? It is as lacking in a foreign policy now as then. It flies from or spurns anything and everything suggested. With the worst can happen in Europe possible and probable, the attitude of the Republican administration is one of helpfulness, and it seems animated only one moment by timidity and the next to perversity.

"THE POOR IMMIGRANT"

Lo, the poor immigrant! How harshly is he treated. Compelled to be one of a number within a certain quota refused admission to this country if he be illiterate, or too poor to show evidence of ability to support himself, or without friends here, often turned back because diseased.

To hear the wails of those who want more immigrants, plenty of immigrants, immigrants in flocks and shoals, immigrants by the army, the thousands, the myriad, one would think them the most abused of all mankind! Were what these say true, no immigrant, once confronting and passing through the terrible hardships of our locked and guarded gates at Ellis Island would ever dare them the second time, if he once got loose from this monster of a country and returned home!

Once in a while we see the other side of the shield. One Pirocaco, a Greek, American by adoption, made a fortune in this country, and went home with half a million dollars. Pirocaco was so fortunate as to invest his money in buildings in Smyrna. Now Smyrna is no more, and the half million dollars is no more. But the thrifty Greek, with the American thought ability to make dollars grow, puts a smile on his face and comes back to the land of his good fortune, penniless but courageous. "It is not too late," he asys, "to do it again!"

You hear no wails from Pirocaco about Ellis Island, the quota law, the examination, the need of being healthy. He knows better. He knows that the land of opportunity will not stay a land of promise and of riches for the hard working, able, healthy, and bright immigrant, if it be overrun with the diseased, the poverty struck, the friendless, the illiterate.

Strange that some of our captains of industry, who see only the immediate need of more unskilled labor, can not see the danger in too many human muscles with no real minds behind them.

A dispatch from Austin states that a pubilc hearing will be held on the bills to amend the medical practice act and the bill to licence Chiropractors on Next Tuesday night. The hearing will be before the public health committee of the house. It seems that the physicans are in favor of the medical practice act with an injunction clause. The Chiropractors and Osteopaths are opposed to bill, claiming that it will greatly interfere with their practice. The Chiropractors are in favor of the Chiropratic bill will give them a separate board of Chiropratic examiners and give them a license to practice. This bill is opposed by the physicians. They claim Chiropractors should have a license to practice medicine before they can practice Chiropractic. The Chiropractor contend that they do not use medicine and should not have to study medicine to practice Chiropractic. The Herald is not competent to discuss the merits of Chiropractic. That it has grown rapidly in the last few years is undisputed. Several states now have a separate board of Chiropractic examiners and they are practicing in every state in the union except Louisiana. In the states of Oklahoma and California where Chiropratic has been known longer than in Texas, the question of a separate board of Chiropractic Examiners was submitted to a referendum of the people and won in both states by a substantial majority.

The Herald office enjoyed a fraternal call last Friday from Messrs. Terry & Norris, enterprising editors and publishers of the Thorndale Champion. They came over from Rockdale where they had visited for a few minutes with John E. Cooke, editor of the Roporter. Messrs. Terry & Norris are making newspaper history in Thorndale, publishing not only the best paper Thorndale ever had but are enterprising in a business way and are making a financial success of the Champion. Both are experienced newspaper men and the Champion's appearance shows to great advantage their handiwork.

The Herald has received a copy of directory recently issued by the Suthwestern General Electric Company at Austin giving the names and numbers of all the state officials and others follows: Heads of the departments at the capitol, the Governor and his staff, and the Judiciary, the members of the Senate and Lower House and the local and visiting newspaper men. This director is a departure in telephone service in Texas and while of the utmost practical benefit to the public is admired equally for its progressiveness.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't Stay Gray. Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

Nature will then throw off or digest the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60 cents per bottle.

WEDDING BELLS

Minister—Mr. Hen Feck, why dont you ever bring your wife to church? HenFeck—I took her there once and spent the rest of my life regretting it.

A Chicago spinister was engaged to two guys. She made one of them happy and married the other.

An Irishman just landed, saw an anchor; he stayed around watching it for three days. A Policeman asked him what he was looking at. He said, "I want to see the guy that uses that pick."

"What is it that keeps the moon in place and prevents it from falling?" asked Jim. "I suppose its the beams," replied his brother.

IT IS NOT EASY

To apologize,
To begin over,
To be unselfish,
To take advice,
To admit error,
To be charitable,
To be trying,
To be considerate,
To avoid mistakes,
To endure success,
To keep out of the rut,
To think and then act,
To forgive and forget,
To make the best of little,
To subdue an unruly temper,
To maintain a high standard,
To shoulder a deserved blame,
To recognize the silver lining,
But it always pays.

EVANS' Corner

This corner is devoted to business, politics and general news

Everybody is feeling good after the fine rain. Now is a good time to have your watch cleaned and put in good condition. All watches should be cleaned every 2 years. If it runs longer it does the watch harm. The jewels become dry and that causes the pinions to wear.

Your eyes need to be looked after once in a while. Should you need your lenses changed we are prepared to give you good service. We carry no glasses in stock—we have them ground to suit your eyes.

We happen to know of some awfully rotten work being done down at Austin this week. Any profession that can't stand without being propped up is in a bad shape. Not all the politicians are elected to the Legislature.

THE HOME BUILDERS

The world is filled with bustle and with selfishness and greed,
It is filled with restless people that are dreaming of a deed.
You can read it in their faces; they are dreaming of the day
When they'll come to fame and fortune and put all their cares away
And I think as I behold them, though it's far indeed they roam,
They will never find contentment
save they seek for it at home.
For the peace that is the sweetest
isn't born of minted gold,
And the joy that lasts the longest and still lingers when we're old
Is no dim and distant pleasance—
is not to-morrow's prize,
It is not the end of toiling, or the rainbow of our sighs.
It is every day within us—all the rest is hippodrome—
And the soul that is the gladdest is
The soul that builds a home.
They are fools who build for glory.
They are fools who pin their hopes
On the come and go of battles or some vessel's slender ropes.
They all sicken and shall wither and shall never peace attain
Who believe that real contentment only men victorious gain.
For the only happy toilers under earth's majestic dome
Are the ones who find their glories in the little spot called home.

LIVESTOCK MEN TO ASK AID IN PLANS FOR COMING SHOW

WOULD SHIP PUREBRED PIGS AND CALVES TO COUNTY FOR IMPROVMENT OF INDUSTRY

Plans are being considered for a call meeting of the Milam County Purebred Livestock and Poultry Association to be held in Rockdale within the next few weeks.

The last regular meeting which was the first Tuesday in January passed without a meeting. President Sam Mewhinney was out of the county also. This meeting was scheduled to be held in the Rockdale Chamber of Commerce building.

The association is anxious to start a discussion about the coming livestock and poultry show and will probably appoint a committee to seek aid of business interests in the county with the view of establishing a permanent fair grounds with race tracks and abundant facilities for handing the exhibits.

The livestock men feel that little or no atention is being paid to their products and feel that if the commercial bodies of the county will not aid them they will aid themselves as far as possible and will take their exhibits where the facilities are available.

Another plan for the future is to interest business interests in the county in shipping into the county of several car loads of purebred pigs and calves in order to encourage the raising of better grades of livestock in the county. It is the purpose of the association to encourage better livestock and believes that the bankers of the county could do no better service for the farmers than to finance shipments of pigs and calves to the county.

The secretary, under instructions from the Association is preparing a catalog in which will be listed all the livestock producers of the county. This catalog will be printed as soon as all the members have certified to the secretary their names and character of livestock or poultry raised by them. Requests have been sent out for these lists but so far quite a number have failed to get this information to the secretary. It is important that this be done at once in order that the catalog may be finished.

SENATOR NELSON (REP.) DEPLORES FAILURE TO ENTER LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Senator Nelson of Minnesota, one of the three oldest members of the Senate, chairman of the important Judiciary Committee, and represntative of a strong Republic state, speaking of what he regarded as a change of view on the part of certain political leaders, made the following comment in the Senate:

"I have been surprised at the attitude assumed by certain statesmen lately. Two years ago it was considered a dangerous matter to have anything to do with Europe. The phrase "entangling alliances" was heard on all sides, and it was thought to be almost a dangerous thing to have anything to do with the affairs of Europe in any shape or manner. Lately we have sound men on this floor most strenous in the advocacy of our going into Europe. The Senator from Idaho (Mr. Borah) and the Senator from Arkansas (Mr. Robinson) want us to participate in reconstructing Europe.

"I may be a heretic, but I have always believed that it was the greatest mistake economically and in every other way for America not to enter the League of Nations, with one or two amendments of the covenant. If we had become a part of the League of Nations, we would have stabilized conditions over there. Political conditions must be stabilized before economic conditions can be stabilized, and I am satisfied in my own mind, though I may be called a heritic, that if we had entered in the League of Nations and accepted the Treaty of Versailles instead of trying to sneak under it by piecemeal, as some of us have been doing lately, conditions would have been far better in Europe than they are today.

"There were some features of the League of Nations of which I did not approve; but we could have elminated them. In its main features, however, it would have acted upon the conditions of Europe just as our little army today on the Rhine acts upon the foreign soldiers. It would have stabilized conditions there, and the economic difficulty under which Europe is suffering today would have been far less than it is now.

"All the people of Europe look to America. As a result of the war a large share of the money of the world came to this country; We were the strong, rich country, and we attained such a position in the war that, had we been a member of the League of Nations, if Uncle Sam had shaken his head to the powers of Europe, our advice would have been taken, and we would have controlled the whole situation.

"This may be a sort of funeral oration on the days of the past, and yet I felt then, and I feel now, that we made the greatest mistake in the world when we did not adopt the Treaty of Versailles, with some amendments, particularly as to Article 10. If we had done that, conditions in the world today would have been much beter than they are now."

Mrs. Martha Shepherd returned Saturday from a week's visit with relatives near Hearne.

ALLISON MAYFIELD VETERAN OF RAIL COMMISSION DEAD

CAREER OF GIFTED PUBLIC MAN ENDS WITH DEATH IN SHERMAN TUESDAY

Sherman, Texas, Jan. 23.—Allison Mayfield, chairman of the railroad commission of Texas died suddenly at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Chapman, Sr., early this morning, following a cold which he contracted recently in Washington where he had gone to attend hearings before the interstate commerce commission on matters pertaining to the Orient railroad. His critical condition was not known, even to intimate friends over the state. His wife was at his bedside.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman Sr. The body will be conveyed to mausoleum at West Hill cemetery, where it will be laid away in a crypt, it was announced tonight.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 23.—Allison Mayfield, chairman of the Texas railroad commission died at Sherman, early this morning, according to information received at the railroad office. Heart trouble was attributed as the cause of his death. Chairman Mayfield had just returned from Washington where he conferred with Interstate Commerce Commission officals regarding rehabilitation plans for the Orient railroad. He had stopped in Sherman on his return for a short rest.

Chairman Mayfield has been a member of the railroad commission for twenty-six years and has presided over the body for the past sixteen years. He was sixty-three years of age, having been born near Overton Rusk county, Oct. 2, 1860.

Mayfield has been prominent in Texas democratic activities since in 1893, when he was appointed assistant attorney general. In 1894, he was appointed secretary of State by Governor Culberson. He resigned in 1896 to qualify as railroad commissioner. He succeeded L. J. Story as chairman of the commission in 1907 and has served in that position since.

The railroad chairman was educated in the Rusk county schools, at Henderson college, and at Sam Houston Normal college, where he was an honor student. He taught school after leaving school and entered the law profession at Tyler, in 1883. Mayfield located at Sherman in 1884, where he lived until elected to the railroad commission. He was married in 1888 to Miss Louis Chapman of Sherman. Mayfield is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Milton G. Gutsch, of Austin.

Chairman Mayfield has taken an active part in the work of the railroad commission, having served as a member of the body during the entire time of its existence with the exception of a few years. He recently has shown particular interest in plans connected with the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad.

Mr. Mewhinney who has for a number of years been active in the councils of his party has been recently appointed postmaster at Buckholts and will accept this offer from the party at Washington. He will succees J. B. Rector at Buckholts, present postmaster and holdover from the Wilson administration.

NURSE IN SOUTHWEST DIVISION COVERS BIG TERRITORY

Miss Mary Fitzsimon, Washington County (Arkansas) Red Cross nurse, is in charge of one of the largest territories covered by one individual in this capacity in the Southwestern Division. Ten towns are in her district and her work covers all kinds of ailments and illnesses, serious and simple, as well as general sanitation and health information.

The well people of one neighborhood in Washington County are particularly indebted to Miss Fitzsimon for having discovered a contaminated water supply which might have caused the illness of the entire community.

In cases where contaminated water supplies were not discovered in time, Miss Fitzsimon has been able to offer an anti-typhoid inoculation which has been so successful in the army as a means of stamping out this disease.

A group of trachoma cases discovered in July by accident is being successfully treated. The mother of this family already had lost her sight, but the other members probably will be not much the worse after the treatment is finished.

A number of ex-service men who have not received their compensation and other disabled soldiers who wanted assistance or vocational training also were cared for during the summer and spring.

DOLLY'S BIRTHDAY

"Dolly's birthday is coming!"

"Dolly's birthday is coming! Soon, very, very soon now it will be here."

And at last it could be said, "Dolly's birthday is here."

Now you may think that Dolly is a very particularly nice doll, but you are wrong. Your guess would be a very good one, but even the best of guesses sometimes are not right.

For Dolly is a little girl. Her real name is not even Dolly, so you see how hard it would be for you to guess anything about Dolly.

Her real name is Margaret, but because she is small and dainty and a great pet and a great favorite she has always been known as Dolly.

At least that is the name she is called by those who love her very much and who know her very well.

Her family call her Dolly and it is a very great compliment when one's family finds that only a pet name will do, for a family is very apt to know one very well indeed, oh, so very, very well.

Yes, it was Dolly's birthday over which there was so much excitement and at last Dolly's birthday had come.

Dolly's birthday had usually been celebrated at eleven o'clock in the morning, but this year it was to be celebrated at supper time and Dolly was to sit up one hour and a half later than usual.

It would be such fun to sit up a whole hour, and then a half of an hour besides, beyond the usual bed time. An hour was nice in itself but that extra half hour would be such fun!

"The Packages Which He Had."

There would be piano playing and singing and games and fun and then there would be extra nibbles of food, for even though there was to be an unusually good supper, still there would be a little room left by everyone for an extra crumb or so of cake. Not to mention an extra candy. Dolly was to have a cake. And candles too. And around her place there would be flowers and ferns. The candles would burn brightly on the cake. Every single thing would be done to make the birthday a very festive occasion.

Now, as I've said, the birthday had come at last as birthdays will do. Sometimes they seem rather slow about arriving. They seem to take their time. But it really doesn't matter if they do take their time for they seem to be more exciting when they do that way. The Fairy Wondrous Secrets had been very busy doing up all sorts of wonderful secrets for Dolly's birthday and she was sending them along by the Dream King.

The Dream King had sat upon Sleepy Time cloud, which is his favorite seat as you know, and he had decided that not only would he call upon Dolly on her birthday, but he would call upon her the night before her birthday, too.

The packages which he had with him were wonderful.

In one was Happiness.

Perhaps you do not know how Happiness can be wrapped up in a package and only the Dream King and Fairy Wondrous Secrets know just how to fix up this package. But it contains many little parts and when these parts are scattered about by the Dream King they take up their abode in a person's room.

Then, too, they follow a person around, very often, very, very often Happiness finds its way straight to a person's heart and there it stays most contentedly. In another package was Long Life and it was going to follow Dolly about. In yet another was the Key-to-the-Secret-of-Knowing-How-to-Enjoy-Things. That was one of the best packages of all, for that key can unlock so much joy.

And that key was going to be given to Dolly! All through her life she would know how to enjoy things, not just big presents but all sorts of things about her, such as the flowers and the birds, a garden, and the love of her family and of many friends.

These were some of the Dream King's packages and he gave them to Dolly. There were presents from her family and her friends and when the candles upon the cake were lighted at supper that very evening everyone felt the candles were burning more brightly than ever.

And indeed they were. They wanted to be their very brightest in honor of the very bright little Dolly.

And the "Many Happy Returns" which were wished her were meant indeed. Oh, I can well assure you of that!

WESTERN UNION IS LIVE AID TO FANS FOR RADIO PROGRAM.

ters have been received by radio stations. The trouble, however, was that they contained commendation or comment on matter long since past and gone and were therefore largely in the nature of post mortems.

Saturday night Mr. A. N. Green, president of the First national Bank found the remedy for this one defect which stood in the way of complete action and reaction between audinece and broadcasting station and once he found it, it proved to be, like many other discoveries, extremely simple. He turned to his telephone, called for Western Union and sent a telegram to the Palmer Braodcasting Station, W. O. C., Davenport, Iowa, expressing his appreciation of the program to which he was listening, and withing 24 minutes after filing the message with the Western Union Office at Cameron, Texas, the Broadcasting station at Davenport had received the telegram and in turn was reading it out to his hearers, and Mr. Green states every word came through distinctly. Mr. Green was using an R. C. 10 Paragon set. Here was live contact between the audinece and the station, working both ways.

This simple method of talking back to the Radio Station while the programgram is in progress and while the interest of everyone listening in is alive has become more or less popular among the true radio fans.

It is their means of applauding what has particularly pleased them, of calling for a repition of some selection, of commenting on the program or telling the radio station at what distance and how they are getting it, sometimes perhaps of voicing a criticism or a constructive suggestion, and with the stations reponse it gives them the gratification of feeling that they are no longer merely mute listeners, but a part of a living audience in full cooperation with the station, with resulting benefits to themselves and all their fellow enthusiasts.

Rain, which was general over the county, and the cold snap that followed practically shut down operations in the Minerva field and in the wildcat area. It was expected with the wells that were drilling in the Minerva field, that several new producers would be drilled in and completed.

With the increase in production for the first half of the month and the increase of price of crude, had served to stimulate drilling and all the producers were exerting every effort to further increase the production of the pool. The Minerva field is one of the leading producing fileds in the country, that is considering the number of producing wells and the amount of drilling that has been done.

The Meram field in West Texas which has been touted so highly through the press in the state and with over 500 wells drilled or being drilled has not the average as our own Minerva field here, even the old Nacogdoches pool in East Texas, which is one of the oldest oil fields in the country with over two hundred producers, has only a production of 100 barrels daily, while the Minerva field is producing in excess of 480 barrels daily and which is nothing to be scoffed at, especially the grade of oil produced and the excellent pipe line service that the producers are getting, the fields here are in much better shape than any field in the state of similar size.

While the amount of money that is being paid out by the Owens Refinery to the producers does not seem too much still it is in excess of a quarter of a million dollars per year and is a great stimulus to business in the trade territory. The principal well in the field and the one that is being watched closely is the Owens Petroleum Companys number one Cobb, which is drilling ahead of production. The well is being drilled by Carl Fogel for the Owens Concern and a completion is looked for this week.

The Guiberson well on Cannon Snap Creek is still shut down for casing, which is being shipped in. The fields in general over the county will be active again this week both in the wildcat and proven area.

RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION SEEKS NEEDED REGULATIONS

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE REPORT BILLS SOON TO BE ACTED ON.

Chas. Sprott, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association in Cameron, submits the following report from the state legislative committee now seeking legislation before the legislature:

The legislative committee to this date has been very successful in its efforts, and is on the job every day. It is now up to the retail merchants throughout the state to back up the committee by writing and telegraphing to their Representatives and Senators urging them to vote for or against the several measures we are interested in.

Bogus Check Bill—The bogus check bill is known as Senate Bill No. 10. The Senate committee has reported favorable on this bill and it will be voted upon in the near future. The same bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Rowland. Will you ask your Senators and your Representatives to support this bill and to enact the same without amendments.

Minimum Wage Bill—This bill will be defeated in the Senate if you will write and wire your Senators to oppose it but it is necessary that you do this and act at once.

General Sales Tax Bill—This bill has not yet been introduced but a limited sales tax bill has been introduced and a general sales tax bill is expected at almost any time. This bill should be opposed.

Truth in Fabric Bill—This bill introduced in the House by Alex Collins should be strongly opposed as it requires the labeling of all cloth and wool fabrics as to the percentage of new wool it contains. It appears, however, that this bill has not much chance to pass.

State Income Tax Bill—The committee also suggests that we oppose the state income tax bill. It appears that a state income tax bill will be enacted in some form and it will be necessary for us to watch this bill very closely in order that we may not get a burdensome state income tax law and possibly a sales tax on top of it.

The legislative committee can only get results if the merchants throughout the state will write and telegraph and talk to their Representatives and Senators in regard to these bills.

MILAM COUNTY LEGISLATORS FACE A BUSY SESSION

MILAM REPRESENTATIVES GET IMPORTANT PLACES ON HOUSE COMMITTEES.

With one chairmanship and various important committee assignments in the house of representatives of which they are now serving their second terms, Representative O. D. Baker and Representative Ike Looney, have begun to give account of their stewardship in the Texas Law Making body.

Mr. Baker has been appointed to a chairmanship of the committee on insurance in the house. Other committee assignments for Mr. Baker are as follows: Appropriations, conservation and reclamation, constitutional amendments, roads and bridges.

Mr. Looney ocucpies a unique position as to committee assignments in the legislature. Being a standpatter on the constitution of 1876 he is a member of the committee on constitutional amendments. Other assignments for Mr. Looney are as follows: Game and fisheries, public health and liquor traffic.

It looks like a busy season for Milam representatives. A canvass of the situation will show that unusual plans are on foot for the law makers regarding the problems of conservation and reclamation. Calling a constitutional convention to rewrite the constitution, has been urged by Governor Neff as well as a number of house and senate members. Both Milam representatives are on this committee. It is known that Mr. Baker favors the call but Mr. Looney is steadfastly opposed to rewriting the constitution, preferring to put whatever patches are necessary in the old garament even though it is a little out of vogue. In conversation recently with a representative of the Herald in Austin Colonel Looney declared himself in favor of certain amendments to the constitution now being mentioned by Governor Neff in his recent adresses and those offered by others, but declares the time unwise to call a convention to give the state a new instrument of government.

Mr. Looney will support, he told the Herald Representative, many of the Governor's recommendations on law enforcement. Being a dyed in the wool prohibitionists Mr. Looney will do some good work as a member of the committee on liquor traffic.

Mr. Baker is openly espousing the call for the convention, believing the state's progress hampered by inadaquate constitution. He has declared in favor of the law enforcement program of the governor and will be quite active piolting legislation of his own origination.

Stockmen in the county regret to see Mr. Baker take so strong a stand against the tick eradication work, his his position being freely criticised among stockmen who have gone to the expense of cleaning up their herds. Mr. Baker has introduced a bill in the house to abolish the livestock sanitary commission and to place it under the supervision of the department of agriculture.

Judging from the statements made by Mr. Baker in a recent address to anti-tick forces in the Milam county court house, it would follow as probable that Mr. Baker would much prefer to give the commission no place in the government so far as its work of tick eradication is concerned. However the bill Mr. Baker is based on economic grounds, a continuance of the policy prevalent in many of the preceeding legislatures to concentrate the administration of state service thereby reducing overhead.

Mr. Baker will introduce a bill to compel attendance of all pupils of scholasaic age on the public schools through the eighth grades, and prescribing the course for all private and parochial schools. This bill does not apply to the institutions of higher learning. It is sure to have strong opposition from the Catholics of Texas as well as protestants who believe such legislation would be an infringement on the religious liberty of its people. This argument is based on the fact that the Catholics incorporate as a part of their studies in parochial schools, religious training which they logically hold is essential to good citizenship.

Mr. Looney will persue his announced policy of introducing no bills but using his influence to kill bad legislation and useless laws.

COUNCIL WILL ASK STANDARD WATER MAINS FOR CITY

SERVICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSION SOUGHT IN SETTLEMENT PLANS.

The city will ask the Cameron Water Power and Light Company to install a standard system of water mains that will meet the requirements of the underwriters as a settlement prior to the laying of the paving, in the event the bonds are voted.

Some apprehension has been felt about this matter but the city has had the proposed improvment under advisement for some time and Wednesday Mayor J. B. White asked the department at Austin for the service of a hydraulic engineer to aid the city in adopting its plans for settlement with the water company. The council at its meeting Tuesday night endorsed this proceedure.

The Cameron Water, Power and Light company submitted a proposed plan of improvment but no action was taken on this plan. The city will ask for a settlement on a basis of permanency as improvments of the character proposed must comprehend the possible rapid growth of the city for many years to come.

Water mains in Cameron at the present time are inadequate, in some instances four inch mains being laid in the business district. In certain portions of the residence section no protection is available in case of fire. It will be sought by the city to provide protection everywhere as well as provide a standard system of mains for the business and more thickly settled residence portions.

The efforts of the city will answer the apprehension felt regarding the paving as no paving will be undertaken until the water system problem has been settled.

The Cameron Water, Power and Light Company through its manager, C. W. Lawrence, has shown a disposition to co-operate in every way possible to arrive at a suitable basis of settlement and the committee on fire and water feels reasonable certain that this matter will be cleared up within the next few days. The committee is as follows: C. R. Phillips, Chairman, George T. Graves and W. O Triggs.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS DEFY CRITICS TO PROVE TRUTH OF FAKE OATH

New York, Jan 21.—The Knights of Columbus announced tonight that five awards totalling $25,000 would be paid to any person who could prove that the "fake oath attributed to the fourth degree membership of the order," which is being circulated in Texas by anti-Catholics, is contained either in that degree or any other authentic ceremonial of the Knights of Columbus.

Luke A. Hart, supreme advocate, stated after a meeting of the supreme officers that the money had been deposited in banks in El Paso, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Thousands of copies of the alleged fake oath are being distributed in Texas, Mr. Hart said, and the money was offered in efforts to drive the circulators into the open or to cover, and to promote better feeling between Catholics and non-Catholics, especially in the South. He declared a conviction for criminal libel was obtained last week in a San Francisco court against a circulator of the "oath."

PERMANENT PROSPERITY FOR SOUTHERN FARMERS

"Why wouldn't it be a good idea to start right now establishing permanent farm prosperity on every Southern farm, to take the place of the regular see-saw into debt and out of debt that has been going on for fifty years or more," said H. G. Hastings of Atlanta, prominent agricultural leader, recently.

"Enough money has come into the South during the last twenty-five years for cotton to have made this the wealthiest agricultural section instead of the poorest. Where has all these billions upon billions of dollars gone?

"These cotton dollars have largely gone to the North and West for bread and meat, gone never to return. Our foolishness, our slavishness to the one crop system is the reason. Our foolishness has put our farm land values on a $10.00 to $50.00 per acre basis and largely helped to put Illinois and Iowa lands on a $300.00 to $400.00 per acre basis.

"It is world wide experience with no exception that there can be no regular permanent prosperity to the regular food buying, grain buying cropper or farmer. Every dollar's worth of food and grain produced on home acres is a dollar saved. It means that much freedom from debt, high interest and dealers' profits.

"Food, grain and forage production on home acres sufficient for the family, the working live stock, the cows and meat animals, poultry, etc., is the first step toward permanent farm prosperity and there can be no permanent farm prosperity on anybody's farm until these necessary items, fully sufficient for home needs, are produced on home acres, not only in 1923 but every year.

"It's a good time now to start the prosperity program off right. The first thing in line is a real home garden, properly prepared, planted and kept replanted through the year. Lots of farm folks tell us that one-third to one-half their living comes out of their garden. Corn and other grain and forage crops take care of the live stock. Hogs and poultry cannot fatten or produce eggs on air and water. So it is all along the line. Make food instead of buy food for home use. It beats 'get rich quick' schemes and steadily followed insures permanent farm prosperity."

TRAGEDY IS TRACED TO KLAN ARGUMENT

MAN IS KILLED IN SCUFFLE TO GET HOLD OF GUN IN HEATED DISPUTE

Monroe, La., Jan. 20.—Ku Klux Klan activities in Morehouse parish was the cause of the killing last night of John Parker Jr., of this town by Carey Calhoun of Bastrop, his cousin, according to evidence adduced at a coroner's inquest held here late today. The jury's verdict holds that Parker came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted in a scuffle with Calhoun. There were no recommendations.

Parker was a former sheriff of Ouachita parish and a captain in the Rainbow division in the World war.

In a voluntary statement to the county judge, Calhoun declared the argument in the killing rose out of a discussion of the Klu Klux Klan activities and as the testimony given at the Bastrop open hearing by Jim Norseworthy.

Calhoun said the shot was fired accidentally at the time he and Parker were suffering to secure possession of a gun following an argument.

"We had been drinking all day, Wess Saunders, Jack and myself and in the evening went to Bessie Jones' house for supper before going to Jack's plantation," Calhoun said. "We took one drink after another and then commenced talking about the Mer Rouge affair. We discussed Norseworthy's testimony and one word led to another until he slapped me and I slapped him back.

"Then he hit me, and I hit him back, and both of us seeing a pistol, made a grab for it. During the scuffle the gun went off."

Saunders testified he was asleep at the time the shooting occurred and never heard the pistol fired.

Bessie Jones is a negress. She had fled. Parker was killed with a .45 calibre revolver that belonged to the woman.

The body of Parker will be interred tomorrow afternoon.

Calhoun, who was admitted he was a klansman, was a witness at Bastrop at the open hearing investigating black hooded mob activities and he testified as having escorted William Noseworthy to the home of Captain J. M. Skipworth and arranged a conference between Norseworthy and Snipworth.

Calhoun is the brother of Gus and Laurie Calhoun, both of whom have been mentioned repeatedly in connection with hooded activities. Laurie was the special deputy who brought Dr. McKoin, charged with murder in the case, back to Lauisiana.

RIDLEY PREVENTED FROM MAKING KLAN TALK IN FLORIDA TOWN.

Daytona, Fla., Jan. 21.—Police today prevented a Klu Klux Klan rally in the Daytona baseball park by posting notices at the entrance of the park forbidding the meeting, and stationing officers there to prevent a gathering.

Last Wednesday night Dr. Ridley was prevented from speaking at the Daytona beach auditorium declined to allow the meeting following a request by the mayor, who stated that he feared trouble would ensue. Notices had been posted on the doors warning children and Women not to attend the klan meeting and it was reported that anti-klansmen were organizing to prevent the rally.

Wash Kidneys If They Hurt

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back pains you or Bladder bothers.

Flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much meat and rich food may form uric acid, which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.

DOUCLE MURDER BAFFLES POLICE; BODIES ARE FOUND

WACO TRAGEDY PUTS AUTHORITIES WORK TO SOLVE CLUES

BULLET RIDDLED BODIES FOUND ON ROADSIDE— BLOODY CAR IS CLUE

Waco, Tex., Jan 21.—The bodies of W. Edward Holt and Mrs Ethel Jacobs Denecamp were found lying side by side about one hunderd yards from the Springfield road and a half mile from the Tehucanna Creek bridge this afternoon at 2 o'clock as the result of a search which began Sunday afternoon when a bloodstained and bullet riddled automobile was found in the heart of the business section. The man had been killed with a shotgun and the woman by a pistol. A rope was found tied around the man's foot and from appearance his body had been dragged a long way behind an automobile.

The only clue to the murderers was afforded by Mrs. Craddock, sister of the murdered woman, who said she had had a dream in which she saw the couple in an automobile wreck on the Tehucanna bridge, which has been the scene of at least one of the seven unsolved murders in this county during the last year, and has played an important part in investigation of several of the others.

Holt was about 45 years old and was being sued for divorce by his wife. Officers had papers in the case to serve on Holt when the bloody automobile was found. Mrs Denecamp's husband was said to be in San Antonio and was expected to arrive in Waco tonight.

Holt was shot at least twice with a shotgun, number four shot being used. One load struck him in the left side of the face, tearing away part of the nose and considerable flesh. The second shot was in the back above the kidneys. Mrs. Denecamp had been shot in the left eye, the bullet coming out through the forehead. Another shot struck her above the left breast, ranging downward and backward, coming out through the back of the middle of the body.

The bodies were found by W. W. Van Sandt, who was out riding with his family.

Examination by the undertaker tonight revealed that Mrs. Denecamp had been shot four times, once in the left eye, once in the forehead, once in the breast and agin in the forearm. In the back of the head was found a huge gash, made as if by a hatchet.

Arrival of Mrs. Denecamp's husband here from San Antonio and of Holt's wife from Dallas, failed to shed additional light on the murder. Denecamp said his wife had arrived in Waco last Tuesday to visit her mother. Mrs. Holt had a conference with Sheriff Leslie Stegall, who later said that she told him her husband had been going with Mrs. Denecamp for some time.

Officers reported that Frank Johnson ,negro, living near where the bodies were found, had told them he heard four or five shots Friday night but did not investigate.

Late tonight police officers said they had no clues as to the identity of the murderer, and the few theories were advanced.

Officers recalled a teriffic battle a local man had with a negro in the Southern outskirts of the city about two weeks ago. They reported that at that time a negro, armed with a shotgun and pistol, jumped in a car occupied by a man and woman and pointed the gun at the woman driver ordering her to turn around and go into the brush.

The man grabbed the barrel of the gun, they said, and after the gun had been discharged through the floor of the car, the white man overpowered the negro and forced him out of the car. A similar attack was made on another couple in the same vicinity Christmas week, police reported, and the negro was thrown off the car by dexterous driving.

MOVE TO EXTEND SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS BEGUN

Austin, Texas., Jan. 15.—Demand that Governor Neff call special sessions of the legislature to carry out his legislative program, or that the legislature take immediate steps to submit to a vote of the people the question of extending the legislative term to six months, was made in the Senate this afternoon by Senators Dudley of El Paso and Davis of Dallas.

The remarks by the two senators followed introduction of a resolution by Dudley commending the governor on his address to the joint session last Friday. Senator Dudley, after remarking on the governor's program declared the chief executive had submitted no methods for carrying out the program. A concurrent resolution is being prepared by Senator Davis it was said.

Probably the most important measure introduced in the senate today was that of Senator Baugh of Runnels proposing the reduction of the house membership to 75 and the senate to 25, with a twelve month session every two years at $3,600 salary. Senator Clark this afternoon introduced a bill proposing a $5,000,000 appropriation to supplement the state school fund for the coming two years. The senate committee to inspect the state railroad was named today by President Davidson.

Other measures introduced today were: Bowers, abolishment of livestock sanitary commission; Woods industrial rehabilitation system; Baugh, liscensing of civil engineers: Woods. licensing physicians.

GEORGE B. TERRELL TAKES OATH OFFICE

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE ADDRESSES CITIZEN ON EVE OF TERM.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 16—Geo. B. Terrell took the oath of office for his second term as Commissioner of Agriculture today—the oath being administered by Associate Justice Thomas B. Greenwood of the Supreme Court. The commissioner briefly reviewed his administration and made some pointed suggestions for the future. His statement follows:

"In assuming the duties of this office for a second term I am profoundly grateful to the people of Texas for the confidence imposed in me as shown by electing me to a second term without opposition. I hope to show my appreciation by rendering honest, faithful, and economical public service.

"During my first term the office has been administered in accordance with the provisions of the law, and I believe efficiently and economically, and fairly satisfactory to the people. The office has been conducted for $61,370.95 less during the last fiscal year than was expended the previous year and $73,473.81 less than was expended the year before I became Commissioner. The most of this saving was made upon my recommendations to the Board of Control and the Legislature and some thorough economy of adminstration.

"The adminstration of government is a big problem and business methods should be applied to every branch of the government. Agriculture is the biggest business in Texas, and the administration of agricultural affairs should be simplified by unifying the agricultural work to the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, and all adminstrative agricultural work carrying police powers, to the State Department of Agriculture, and not divide this work among a number of boards and commissions, as is now being done, causing unnecessary duplication, rivaries and jealousies and unnecessary expense to the tax payers Many otther states have done this and have reduced expenses and increased efficiency, and Texas should profit by their example.

"We are beginning a new year and a new administration and should profit by the mistakes of the past. Tax burdens should be lightened upon the average tax payer, and wealth and privilege should be made to pay adequately for the protection enjoyed.

"Agriculture, the basis of our wealth and education, the pride and hope of the State, must be adequately supported. The State and Nation cannot survive unless education is generally diffused and agriculture is made profitable. The business interests should realize these conditions, and give moral and financial support to sustain agriculture on a paying basis.

"Cotton is the basis of the wealth of Texas and of the South and should have brought not less than 30 cents per pound during the past season, with a cotton famine staring the world in the face, and all the wealth of the South should be freely used to make cotton bring the cost of production and a reasonable profit in the future.

"A campaign to make Texas feed herself, save the soil, kill the weevil, and make farming pay' should be the slogan of every loyal Texan."

"THE TEXAS ALPS."

The Davis Mountains, situated in Southwest Texas, has been aptly described as "The Texas Alps." Its natural scenic beauty is unexcelled and it is far-famed as a hunter's paradise. The Texas Legislature has up for consideration the creating of a state park out of this wild domain.

The Magazine Section of the Cameron Herald to be issued February 8 will have a story written by Austin Callan about the Davis Mountains.

Watch our Magazine Section! Many splendid feature stories about Texas will appear in its pages, at intervals, each month. Pass it on to your neighbor and suggest that he subscribe for the Cameron Herald. He and his family will be well pleased with the investment.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

COMMERCIAL CLUB NAMES COMMCTTEE TO PUSH PAVING

S. A. COTTLE NAMED CHAIRMAN OF BODY TO SEEK SUCCESS OF ELECTION.

Directors meeting of the Commercial Club, Friday night, January 19.

The following officials of the club answered to roll call:

Officers—R. H. McIntosh, vice president; Moulton Cobb, secretary.

Directors—J. W. Coleman, J. T. Parma, Robert McLane, C. R. Phillips, Will O. Triggs, O. M. Smith and C. W. Bradbury.

Committee Chairmen—George T. C. A. Sprott, T. S. Henderson, Jr., Dan Tyson, T. S. Henderson, Sr., and W. F. Sharpe.

Vice President R. H. McIntosh occupied the chair in place of President Lawrence, who was ill.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Geo. T. Graves of the good roads committee reported that Commissioner Butts was keeping the country roads in this section in good repair.

Will O. Triggs, chairman of a special committee to confer with the Methodist ladies in regard to serving a banquet for the Commercial Club during February, said that the ladies would be glad to furnish a delicious four-course menu at $1 per plate. A motion, made by J. W. Coleman, instructed the chairman to appoint a committee to take charge of this banquet. The following committee was appointed: C. W. Bradbury, Will O. Triggs, J. W. Coleman and J. C. Tucker.

J. R. Fraim, a prominent merchant of Gause, was present and O. M. Smith asked the acting president to call on the visitor for a talk. Mr. Fraim delighted the club with an appropriate talk in which he extolled the excellent roads of Milam county and expressed his gratification of the work done on the Gause highway. He said the Cameron Commercial Club had been unstinted in its efforts to aid in the building of good roads for this section. Mr. Fraim declared that Rockdale and other nearby towns had been inspired by the example set by the club and that these towns, too, were endeavoring to secure good roads. The speaker stated that he had long wanted to attend one of the club's meetings and expressed pleasure over the opportunity of being present. T. S. Henderson stated that the club reciprocated the good will and felicitations of the gentleman from Gause and that the club appreciated his kind remarks. Upon motion, Mr. Fraim was elected an honorary member of the club.

T. S. Henderson moved that beginning Friday night, January 26, the club enforce its rule that members are automatically suspended if they fail to attend three consecutive meetings without a valid excuse. The motion prevailed.

A motion, introduced by J. W. Coleman, was passed instructing the secretary to announce the names of a committee appointed some time ago to readjust the proportionment of the club dues.

The meeting reached a state of animation when T. S. Henderson, Jr., made in the form of a motion that the chair appoint a committee to guide and direct the campaign for voting the $100,000 bond issue on February 13 for paving the streets of Cameron. He pointed out that the club had instigated the movement and should not desert the fight in the heat of battle. The motion was immediately seconded. Several of the members pointed out that some of the members of the club opposed the paving proposition and for that reason it might be best for the club not to take an active part in the campaign. The merits of the bond issue were attracked and various phases of the plan were discussed. The meeting reached its climax when T. S. Henderson, Sr., rose to speak in behalf of the bond issue. With a voice clear and a countenance sincere, he said in part: "If the bond issue carries I shall be as hard hit as any citizen of Cameron. I am not especially eager to pay more taxes. But I realize that Cameron has reached that stage where it must go on into the city class or drop back among the half-forgotten villages. I favor going forward. There are those who would cloud the issue in this campaign. In its final analysis there is but one issue involved, namely, the increase in taxes. We have spent enough money on our gravel streets to pay for paving them. Fortunately, our streets are narrow. Let's pave them and settle the problem once for all. (Applause.) Some seem to think that only the property owners are involved in the paving campaign. Some seem to be turning up their noses at the fact that many of our young men are rendering their copper watches in order that they can vote in this election. My friends, the young man who has come to Cameron to spend his life, make his home and career, has vastly more at stake than I have. This same young man twenty years from now may be president of the Citizens National Bank, the Cameron State Bank, the First National Bank, the Cameron, Water, Power & Light Company. These young men will be leading citizens here long after we are gone. These young men are just as much concerned over this matter as we are. These propertyless people represent the potential strength of Cameron. If you do not believe it, let them all move away from here and you will find that your corner lot will be practically valueless." Mr. Henderson was accorded the most enthusiastic applause ever given a speaker in the Cameron Commercial Club and his timely address was pronounced a masterpiece by all. A vote was taken on T. S. Henderson, Jr.'s motion and it carried without a dissenting vote. The following committee was appointed to carry out the program of the paving plan:

S. A. Cottle, chairman; C. W. Lawrence, John Mangum, Robt. McLane, C. N. Green, W. O. Triggs, C. R. Phillips, J. W. Coleman, F. R. Dunlap, T. S. Henderson, Jr., Hilry Stedman, C. W. Bradbury, H. M. Hefley, J. R. Hays.

Upon motion from O. M. Smith, duly seconded and passed, it was decided to have this campaign committee to confer with the Cameron Water, Yower & Light Company and to receive a statement from the company as to their plans of laying adequate mains and making proper sewerage connections.

Quits Sick Bed After Two Years

MRS. E. F. WILLIMAN UNSTINTED IN PRAISE OF TANLAC FOLLOWING REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

The results of Tanlac in the case of Mrs. Ella F. Williman, of O'Neal, S. C., have been truly remarkable. According to her statement she has "recovered her health and strength" after being confined to her bed for two years and losing nearly all hope of getting well.

"Honestly, I don't believe I would be alive today if it had not been for Tanlac," says her statement. "I had been confined to my bed for two years, suffering from a nervous breakdown and stomach trouble, and don't see how I could have stood it much longer. My nerves made me almost frantic at times and I never knew what a good night's rest was, and my stomach was in such a bad condition that I scarcely ate enough to sustain life.

"By the time I finished my second bottle of Tanlac I began to feel better. I have taken ten bottles of Tanlac now and it has built me up until I feel strong and well. My stomach has stopped troubling me and I rarely ever feel a bit nervous. I sleep well and feel like a new person. All praise to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

Dr. S. P. Brooks Opposed To Compulsory Bible Reading

WORSHIP ENDS WHEN COMPULSION BEGINS

BIBLE SHOULD BE KEPT FREE OF LEGISLATIVE TAINTS SAYS SCHOLAR.

Friday morning at the chapel hour, the students of Baylor heard Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor, read the reply he had written in answer to one received from State Senator J. H. Baugh of Ballinger, in which the latter asked for the opinion of Dr. Brooks regarding the bill now pending in the legislature, which seeks to make daily reading of the Bible in the public schools compulsory. Dr. Brooks is opposed to the measure.

Referring to the letter, Dr. Brooks said.

"This letter was prepared in answer to one from Honorable J. H. Baugh, state senator from Ballinger, Texas.

"Believing that the spirit of the Senator's inquiry would allow me to give it to the public, I am sending copies to the press, after having read it first to the students and faculty assembled in Baylor university.

The letter follows:

Senator J. H. Baugh,

Austin, Texas.

Dear Senator Baugh:

I respectively reply as follows to your request for my opinion as to the bill, now before the senate, concerning compulsory daily Bible readings in the public schools of Texas.

I am unalterably opposed to this bill. I do so on what I believe to be sound reason, I do not deny that my mental attitude has been influenced by my forebearers. I was born in Georgia, and reared in Texas. I imbibed the principles of the fathers of the old south. I was reared in the home of a Baptist preacher who taught me to respect religious liberty of conscience for others as well as myself. I love the memory of Roger Williams who fled from coercion in the name of religion. I early learned that Baptists are instinctively individualists, democratic. They will have nothing to do with the mixture of church and state where either seeks to control the other. This explains the personal setting of my early life. I believe that all men, of every sort and creed under the constitution have a right to worship or not as they choose I would, if necessary go to war on that principle. This does not mean that I demand a peculiar right to be a bible reader myself, a Bible interpreter for myself, but it means that my infidel fellow citizen, my Catholic neighbor, or Jewish friend must have the same right to read or refrain from reading the Bible as he chooses. These are fundamentally American principles.

I think that this world would be better if all men read the Bible, believed and practiced its precepts. In this belief I join the proponents of the bill. It is no answer to them to say that it may finally be regaarded unconstitutional. That is not an ultimate argument against any law that ought to be. If a law ought to be, then the constitution can be changed. I do not pitch my opinion on mere legal grounds. My objection lies deeper. It is because of my friendship for the Bible, my belief that the whole cause of Christian truth would be hurt in an unspeakable fashion.

The Bible, my dear senator, is the revealed will of God to man. Its purpose is spiritual. It is not an encyclopedia of facts or of civil statures. The history methods of propagating its truth have been that of persuasion. Jesus, the greatest personality of the Bible taught in love. He won men to Himself. He never drove them to the house of God. He said, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."

Wherever ecclesiastical authorities in the name of law have sought to compel a certain kind of religious belief, martyrdom has sprung up and liberty has grown in strength. Instance the middle ages in Europe, and the early days of religious freedom in New England and Virginia. Surely the state ought not now to commit the errors of former powerful ecclesiastics.

If the Bible is God's book, His revelation to man, it surely will stand without a bare majority in solemn vote of the legislature of the State of Texas. If it is God's book don't put it on the level of arithmetic and geography by compelling instruction in it. Worship passes out where compulsion begins.

Proponents of the bill say that extracts of the Bible will be taken, theoscraped, then read By some teacher before each room of public school children. That sounds all right, but on what meat hath any group of lawmakers fed that they should know the important parts of the Bible so well as to force it on my children and that of my neighbor's children?

It is presumed that a wise committee would allow the ten commandments read. They would allow the teaching of Jesus to stand where He teaches obedience to law, paying taxes, abstaining from murder and theft, but it's a safe wager the committee would not allow a line read where Jesus teaches that "a man must be born again" in order to enter the celestial glories of the redeemed in Heaven.

The historic success of democracies is based on compromise. If a committee of citizens come together to select passages later to be read to the children, compromises would be inevitable. Would not the Catholic want his theories and would not seek to get them out of his version of scriptures? Would not the Jews want the ancient laws expounded? Would the folllowers of John Wesley be pleased if Baptists sought to add a passage having to do with the forms of church government or decrying baptism by proxy? After all would not the readers of this man made Bible be teachers who felt the resentement of the compulsion.?

Let us presume that for the most part in Texas the teachers would be friends of the Bible and the things for which it stands. Equally presumptive is the theory that most of them would read it so as to convey the peculiar beliefs held by the given readers.

Let a pagan reader read it, let an infidel scoffer read it, let him do it with a comic leer or a shy wink or sarcastic tone and he can undo in one day more faith than the preachers can build up in one year. This can be done countless times over and no sheriff or city or county superintendent can ever help it, or get a conviction in a court of justice. It would come to be mockery in religious formalism and would breed things after its kind.

There is a disposition, my dear senator, a growing tendency on the part of many good citizens, to shift all responsibilities of the whole social order on the school teachers. Parents see the breakers ahead, as to training of their children, an appeal is made to the preachers and the church. The methods of the preacher and the church are slow, too slow for some folks. Further appeal is made to the teacher. He follows the best light he has, a traditional grind in the school room. Finally a rush is made upon the poor legislator. He in turn, willing to take a chance, seeks to shift the whole responsibility of the home and church upon the school room. I remind you, sir, that that people which shuns the duties of parents in training their children that seeks to do it by proxies in the school room, will some day pay a penalty not conceived of now by the proponents of this measure.

Don't let anybody around the state capitol building in Austin get the idea that his business is to show people the way to heaven. On the contrary let him keep the roads open to the school houses for all the children all the time where by they may learn the duties of citizenship and the use of their mental and physical formulaes to that end. Let him set the lights to burning wherever the darkness of ignorance enshrouds a child in Texas. Let him keep the eyes of the law on every lawbreaker of human statutes, while the churches and the homes will show the steep and difficult way to a better understanding of God's revelations in His Book. This last will be on the volutary principle.

I repeat, the proponents of this bill have a laudable purpose, but when the succeed in this their next move may be to force into the schools the monetary principle of 16 to 1 or force out of the schools the laboratories that have revealed God's truth in a new light. Remember, if Volivia gets his hands on the law of Texas he will force us to believe the earth is flat, that the sun revolves around the earth and that the sky is held in its place by star headed tacks.

By the same token whereby we put all responsibility on the legislature, you gentlemen, with proprierty, might pass a resolution that a German mark is worth an American "two bits" or, that smutty wheat will make good biscuits.

With high personal regards,

I am your friend and teacher,

S. P. Brooks, President.

W. O. NEWTON IS BANK OFFICIAL HERE

MILANO MAN BECOMES ACTIVE WITH CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK IN CAMERON.

Walter O. Newton, who for several years has been cashier of the First State Bank here, was elected Vice President of the Citizens National Bank of Cameron at a recent meeting of officers of that institution.

Mr. Newton has been a director of the Citizens National Bank for several years, but has been serving as cashier of the First State Bank of Milano. He started his banking career in 1906 with the Citizens National Bank. He is an able and experienced banker, recognized by other bankers as being one of the best bankers in Milam county. Milano will feel the loss of Mr. Newton. He will be a valuable asset to the Citizens National and the city of Cameron.—Milano Zazette.

Lesser Newton, who for several years has been a director of the First State Bank here, was promoted to First Cashier of that institution at a meeting of the directors last week. This change is due to W. O. Newton being elected vice president of the Citizens National Bank at Cameron.

Mr. Newton is at the head of the J. B. Newton & Sons Mercantile establishment and will retain charge of the store. Mr. Newton is a wide-awake young business man and has been a valuable asset to Milano. He is widely known through this section of the country and we feel sure his banking career will be a great success. Mrs. Nannie Bodiford, who for some time has been employed by the First National will retain her place there with her friendly smiles and efficient service.—Milano Gazette.

SAYS K. OF C. NOT SUPPORTING FASCISTI PROGRAM IN MEXICO.

Corpus Christi, Texas, Jan. 20.—A denial that President Obregon of Mexico faced any fascisti movement in his country through the spread of the Knights of Columbus there and that this prompted him to issue the order expelling Monsignor Flippi from Mexico, was made here tonight by Father Eugene Speiss, vicar general of this diocese, who has been acting in the capacity of mouthpiece of the papal delegate since his arrival here Friday afternoon.

Father Speiss said that the blessing of the cornerstone of the monument was the only act which prompted President Obregen to take the action which he did.

Fillipi has refused to see press representatives since he arrived here, Father Speiss saying that it was beneath the dignity of so high a church official to have any dealings with newspaper men.

C. HUDSON STORE ENTERED BY BURGLARS FRIDAY NITE

The C. Hudson store, which is located in the east part of town, was entered Friday night about 11:50. So far nothing has been missed.

The robbery was discovered by J. S. Slaughter and E. E. Wilson, who entered the Gazette office about that time to get some mail to be placed on the night trains. Noises were heard through the wall that separates the office from the store, but it was placed to a cat and nothing more thought of it. About fifteen minutes the latch which fastens the front door from the inside made noises which indicated it being turned. The men ran to the front door, which is only a few feet but arrived just in time to hear the thief run away. The front door was standing open. A search of the store was made but it proved that the thief did not leave a confederate behind. No trace of the guilty party has been found.—Milano Gazette.

You do just four things: You think, you remember, you imagine, you act. Learn to think better, remember, imagine better or act better and increase your efficiency and therefore your income. Perhaps you are successful now, but think how much benefit a practical business education will be to you. You agree with us that to violate a part of the laws of business means a partial failure and to observe part of the laws of business means partial success, and to observe all the laws of business means complete success. Our aim is to help you observe a higher per cent of the laws of business success. The late Prof. James of Harvard declares that the average man uses only ten per cent of his brain power.

Suppose you are twice as capable as the average man; even that would mean you are only reaching twenty per cent of your maximum possibilities. Isn't that poor consolation for the ambitions? The purpose of our course is to produce a greater efficiency and with less effort. Did you ever stop to think that eighty-five per cent of the men of this country are earning only $18.00 per week or less? That ninety-two per cent fail in business between the ages of 40 and 50? That ninety-five per cent have no money at the age of 60. We have been successful in getting thousands of men out of the eighty-five, the ninety-five and ninty-two per cent class.

We have been marvelously successful in raising salaries of young men and young women as is conclusively shown and proven in our catalogue, by letters from former students. The business world wants thinkers and doers. There's a famine of high priced men today; there are thousands of men worth a thousand dollars a year, but only a few worth ten thousand a year. Be a ten thousand dollar man. You can! We know that a man is not worth much from the chin down, selling muscle, but as much as a hundred thousand dollars a year, from the chin up, selling brains. Be a chin upper and sell brains; but remember you must develop them before you can sell them.

Take our thorough, practical courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Classing, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Telegraphy and Radio. Learn how to think, to remember, to imagine and to act.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

With the work of installing the street lights practically complete it is believed the part of precaution to discuss their relation to traffic problems and to urge the people to give the officers the best possible co-operation.

Car drivers who have been accustomed to driving in the town district may find until they have become accutomed to the light poles, difficulty in turning at the intersection but, the fact that these light poles are to be used for directing traffic will in time make them a great asset to the city.

The city does not feel it necessary to say that all must "drive to the right." This admonition has been synonmous with traffic regulations always and the officers believe all who are permitted to drive cars know in advance that these light poles are silent directors of the traffic and request that all observe the regulation rigidly so as to avoid accidents and the necessity of making complaints.

The lights are a digtinct departure for Cameron in the way of street lighting and the city is proud of them and believes the citizens are mindful of their usefulness as well as improvment to the appearance of the city.

Automobiles cannot be driven fast in the business district both because of the traffic regulations and the laws against speeding. The officers desire to call these matters to the attention of the public so as to avoid accidents and to enforce a more orderly handling of the traffic. Failure to drive to the right and the practice of cutting corners will lead to accidents but with every one co-operating the traffic problem can be solved.

Care in driving in the business district is desirable not only as a means of avoiding accidents but will protect the light poles from damage by accidents. Motorists are therefore urged to observe all the regulations such as turning around the poles and keeping to the right.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Brush Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound through your hair, taking one strand at a time

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, and look years younger.
